

Nichols Industrial Solutions

Packaging adhesives are the Nichols solution that sticks with our customers!

Nichols takes a consultative approach when working with our customers to specify, qualify and supply adhesives across various segments. We are providing solutions into the food processing, brewery, hardware, pharmaceutical and furniture industries, amongst others. All variables associated with adhesive applications are considered, including manufacturing environment and equipment, substrate, speed, and final packaging requirements. Our Nichols team not only provides a holistic quality solution but our value goes beyond the products we sell.

Working with Nichols for your packaging adhesive needs provides you with a partner that can support your logistical needs with stocking programs, next day availability, vendor managed inventory and custom delivery schedules. Adding adhesives to your Nichols portfolio helps you to consolidate packaging vendors, and provides you with a local partner that provides application and technical support for your changing packaging environment.
